Everywhere I Go

Phil Vassar

Moving on wasn't in the plan
I was living in that happy-to-be-right-where-I-am space
And god knows that's a hard-to-get-to kind of place
But it took a right into another world
I didn't like much when you left me girl
I gotta tell you it's been pretty hard
But every now and then I turn around
And there you are everywhere I go
Everywhere I go
There's a sign from a time you were mine
Everywhere I go
There's a tear that leads me to your smile
Just like you said you'd be
Anytime I needed you here to comfort me
Though it's only a memory
But I swear you're here right there everywhere I go
It took a while for the wheels to turn
I guess the more you think you know bout this life
The more you find you haven't learned
But every now and then it'll break me down
Long enough to slow my motor and look around
At every stop we made along the way
And I see your face everywhere I go
Everywhere I go

There's a sign from a time you were mine
Everywhere I go
There's a tear that leads me to your smile
Just like you said you'd be
Anytime I needed you here to comfort me
Though it's only a memory
But I swear you're here right there everywhere I go
Every night and every dream
Every part of everything
It seems there's always something
That stops me everywhere I go
Thank god you swore to be
Anytime I needed you here to comfort me
And though it's only a memory

But sometimes I get caught in the thought long enough
And I swear you're here right there
Everywhere I go
There's a sign from a time you were mine
Everywhere I go
There's a tear that leads me to your smile
Just like you said you'd be
Anytime I needed you here to comfort me
Though it's only a memory
But I swear you're here right there everywhere I go
