Stay

Pink Floyd

Stay and help me to end the day And if you don't mind We'll break a bottle of wine Stick around And maybe we'll put one down 'Cause I wanna find What lies behind those eyes Midnight blue Burning gold A yellow moon Is growing coldI rise Looking through my morning eyes Surprised to find you by my side Rack my brain And to try to remember your name To find the words to tell you goodbye Morning dues Newborn day Midnight blue Turned to grayMidnight blue Burning gold A yellow moon Is growing cold

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/