

We Belong Together

Dan Wilson

I thought you and I would have a lazy life time
For reeling in our legendary life line
Then our two souls would finally connect
I know whenever you're near me I'm behaving weirdly
I turn away my eyes
You read it insincerely
I mumble when I'm trying to be clear
When I'm trying
When I'm trying
You and me
We're living our strangers lives
We're making lovers, we never could be friends, no
You and me
Getting older but somehow that's fine
But we belong together in the end
We belong together
In the end
Chosen the words we choose are frozen in the??
Or the fly after countries
But no one even knows them
Into our ears and nobody believes
You say
You hardly know the one that I'm becoming these days
I feel it to
I wouldn't recognize my own face
If I met me walking down my street
If I met me walking
Met me walking You and me
We're living our strangers lives
We're making lovers, we never could be friends, no
You and me
Getting older but somehow that's fine
We belong together in the end
We belong together in the end
You and me
We're living our strangers lives
We're making lovers, we never could be friends, no
You and me
Stumbling in paradise

We belong together in the end
We belong together in the end
