Your Missing Piece

Amber Oak

The silent morning shines on pale
Look to the west there stands your closest friend
And if you turn you cant go backYou feel stray
Find your way
Time won't be longAnd now the mountains raise in east
You have to find your missing piece
The red carpet will lead your wayYou feel scared
Unprepared
But undeniableFeel free to fly
Show them what you've done
They will hold you down
And twist you with false frownsAnd now the rain falls in your hair
You have to look, you need your eyes kept clear
Don't let the bad thougts eat you upYou will feel strong
Distant songs
Fullfill your hopesFeel free to fly
Show them what you've done
They will hold you down
And twist you with false frowns ohFinally you'll see
What in the end is true
Everyone will fade
And all thats left is you

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/