

Ask Anybody

Christine McVie

He's a devil and an angel
Ooh, the combination's driving me wild
Drives me wild
He's a saint and he's a sinner
Ooh, somehow he acts just like a beginner
I guess he's still a child Ask anybody, ask anybody
They'll say I'm going wrong
They say that I should walk out
But that's not what I want
Ask anybody and they'll all say the same But that's all right 'cause I know somehow
We can make it right and I'm putting up a fight
Somehow, somewhere he'll change
And we'll try it all over again without all the pain Ask anybody, ask anybody
They'll say I'm going wrong
They say that I should walk out
But that's not what I want
Ask anybody and they'll all say the same
