

He Left a Lot to Be Desired

Ricochet

He left a letter for you by the door
Just saying, "Goodbye, I don't love you no more"
He made you feel like you weren't worth anything
But if you were mine, girl, I'd have everything Your touch, your kiss, your tenderness
Your blue eyes burning with fire
Your heart and soul, when he let them go
He left a lot to be desired What was he thinkin'? Was he out of his mind?
How could he walk away? How could he be so blind?
No, I'll never understand why he gave you up
He was one lucky man when he had your love Your touch, your kiss, your tenderness
Your blue eyes burning with fire
Your heart and soul, when he let them go
He left a lot to be desired

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>