Spraynard

I saw it in the sky tonight.
Much to bright to be an airplane.
Too slow for a shooting star.

Maybe there's a fire in the sky. Maybe they're back for me.

I always knew that I wasn't from here

They said that they'd come here when timing is right.

You hide inside your home away from all the demouns outside I saw it when you cried tonight.

Darkness buried deep within your eyes and your voice.

Maybe they're all liars in disguise.

You hide inside your home away from all the creeps outside.
