Colourblind

The Hardship Post

Wherever you may be
You breathe the air I breathe
Cause now you've made my heart come alive
And I hope that I'm gonna find
That our love is color blind
They say 'What's the world coming to?'
Tell me, what chance is there for me and you?
It's not enough to believe that love is blind

You say our future's gonna be so bright
Tell me that everything will be alright
I need to believe you'll open up your mind
You and I can be together
But we both know that love can't live a lie
Where ever you may be
You breathe the air I breathe
But if the world you see is black and white
Then I might just blow your mind

Yeah life can be so cold (baby)
Look deep inside your soul (get ready)
Cause now you've made my heart come alive
And I hope that I'm gonna find
That our love is colorblind
Now that you and I have come this far
Can we be the people that we think we are
I need to feel in my heart we'll stand the test of time
Worlds apart can come together

But look out baby cause worlds might still collide
Where ever you may be
You breathe the air I breathe
But if the world you see is black and white
Then I might just blow your mind
Yeah life can be so cold (baby)
Look deep inside your soul (get ready)
Cause now you've made my heart come alive
And I hope that I'm gonna find

That our love is colorblind

Takes every kind of people
To make this world go round
But am I chasing rainbows
With the love we found
Please don't let me down
Where ever you may be
You breathe the air I breathe
But if the world you see is black and white

Then I might just blow your mind
Yeah life can be so cold (baby)
Look deep inside your soul (get ready)
Cause now you've made my heart come alive
And I hope that I'm gonna find
That our love is colorblind
That your love is color blind
Loves got to be color blind
