Sledgehammer

Evans The Death

I sledgehammered myself into
A lonely point of my room.
Well, it's damp in the walls,
Like it's never ever known.
I stay indoors and breathe in spores
It'll take your breath away.Oh look what has happened to us
You live only a bus ride away.
I thought you'd never run out of patience
But I found out too late in the game.I'm not sure what you're doing,
Why must I always ruin it?As i hammered alone to pass the time,
I can't fool myself with flights of life.
Cause it's true, I've been left Behind and I drew low
To having fun, but when that's done
I'll be there to bring you down.Oh look what has happened to us
You live only a bus ride away.
I thought you'd never run out of patience,
But I found out too late in the game.I false started my watch,
I've missed my chance,
I miss you oh so much.Oh look what has happened to us,
You live only a bus ride away.
I thought you'd never run out of patience,
But I found out too late in the game.I've driven you to ruin,
You know just what I'm doing.
Don't you go!

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/