

Just Wrong

Parabelle

When we were shimmering we thought that whole new world wasn't everything
if we lost ourselves and heaven, these simple reasons
are drowning us
with land in sight, I'm gone And so the melody's over,
may you never forget.
This is just wrong,
it's never been,
ever been
higher than you are.
You stole so much,
my subtle hold,
is so much
and my hold has never been,
ever been still I'm tripping on all that you said, I've got it all inside and I held it up until you came in,
when your eyes turn down,
my whole world crashes,
you watch it burn
and get high on the ashes.
And now the melody's over, may you never forget. This is just wrong,
it's never been,
ever been
higher than you are.
You stole so much,
my subtle hold,
is so much
and my hold has never been,
ever been still This is just wrong,
its never been
higher than you are
you stole so much,
(you bend to break and you bend it to break)
my subtle hold

(you're isolated)
it lets you know, the melody's over. May you never forget. This is just wrong, it's never been,
ever been
higher than you are.
You stole so much,
my subtle hold,
is so, so much
ever been still.
