You Lied

The Stowaways

I can't figure out just what went wrong I remember a love so strong Good bad times, were carelessly so free But it happened to me You said you stopped, that you quit playing around I sat up waiting it was quarter past three I heard from my friends you were cheating on me But I finally found out You lied Oh, you took my soul You took it away from me Oh, I've lost control You lied I've lost the way we used to be Why did it happen, why was it me You broke our promise, our destiny (destiny) But you tore it apart I gave you my love, my soul, my heart You can't deny it it's so easy to see So tell me who was on your Caller ID I can't forgive you, you know you've done wrong And I've finally found out You lied You took it away from me Oh, you took my soul You lied Oh, I've lost control I've lost the way we used to be Oh, needed you so I've cried But you turned away from me Oh, I'm on down low I've cried Why did you tell those lies to me It wasn't meant to be like this I have to face what's happened Now I see it's over My questions must be answered Won't you please just tell me why Oh, you took my soul You lied You took it away from me Oh away from me You lied to me honey (Oh, I've lost control) You lied Hey baby I've lost the way we used to be I've cried Oh, needed you so But you turned away from me I've cried Oh, I'm on down low Yeah (Why did you tell those lies to me) You lied to me baby You lied
