When Chaos Calls

Borknagar

Shores retreat in disarray
melting glaciers lead the demise
And connect the rapidly rising tide
A ramming fluid out of firm iceA wall of waves and an abyss of water
Drench the land, coastal erosion
Submerged by the increasing sea levels slaughter
It stirs our inner oceanShores retreat in disarray
Melting glaciers lead the demise
A wall of waves and an abyss of water
Drench the land, coastal erosion
When chaos calls
A drowning of the skyline
A world ruled by horizontal waterfalls
They flood out of pandemonium's shrineWe're buried by persistent snowfall
It levels out topographyWhen chaos calls
A drowning of the skyline
A world ruled by horizontal waterfallsNo more hinderance for the storm to call
Out, to destruction and catastrophePeriodic freezing unsettles
Building a kingdom of frost
Chaos dressed in a calm pettle
Set to efface and exhaustSubmerged by the increasing sea levels slaughter
It stirs our inner ocean
When chaos calls
A drowning of the skyline
A world ruled by horizontal waterfalls
When chaos calls
A rift in earth's core
A world ruled by horizontal waterfallsThey flood out of pandemonium's shrine
