Moon

Sia

I watch you spin from afar
I drink you in and breathe you out
I'm camouflaged by the time line
I'm camouflaged when the sun shines
Two ships passing in, in the night
Two lips pressing ground the tides
I believe the world it spins for you
We will never be, I am the moon
I believe the world it spins for you
We will never be, I am the moon
I long to be a part
I isolate my heart

You've drawn me into your world
Now, I too spin limbless
One hand clapping, where's the wind
I stand spanning at your distant wings
I believe the world it spins for you
We will never be, I am the moon
I believe the world it spins for you
We will never be, I am the moon
I believe the world it spins for you
We will never be, I am the moon
