Simon Webbe

Good love, left me feeling kinda bad
Riled up, after all the fun we had
Put off, by your dirty meddlin'
Ain't that long since, I was your hootchie cootchie man But you're getting off, spreading dirty lies
Ya broke promise, don't come as no surprise
No, no, that ain't gonna bother me
I ain't making a scene So have it your way but you'll pay the price
You had ya chances, still got no answers
No leaving with your head held high I ain't gonna run, I ain't gonna fight
So don't go making business, when you ain't got no witness
I guess you gotta let love lie, unjustified So sad, turning on me like you did
Cold cash, got you like a sedative
Lifestyle, live the life of luxury
While somehow, I'm sleeping with the enemy You'll get none of that money making lies
You can't bare to do better thinking twice
If you're taking me on, you're doing it all wrong yeah
And where d'ya get that attitude from? So have it your way but you'll pay the price
You had ya chances, still got no answers
No leaving with your head held high I ain't gonna run, I ain't gonna fight
So don't go making business, when you ain't got no witness
I guess you gotta let love lie, unjustified I thought I was seeing something else
Something sweeter, nothing like the rest
But you were trouble dressed as tenderness 'Cos this deception that you played on me
Has left you where you didn't wanna be
But don't come knockin' here for sympathy You have it your way but you'll pay the price
You had ya chances, still got no answers
No leaving with your head held high I ain't gonna run, I ain't gonna fight
So don't go making business, when you ain't got no witness
I guess you gotta let love lie, unjustified Your were the words that I won't forget
Mine are the ones that I won't regret
Made me feel good and I told you that
But you twist the knife, when I turned my back You took a chance and you lost control
Got little heart and you got no soul
Guess all of these things
Gotta let them lie
(Just gotta let them lie)
