

South of Where You Want to Be

Barrett Johnson

A suitcase sits on the floor by the door
A ticket in your hand
Don't you leave, don't you leave without saying so
So sad to see you go.

I don't know much, but I know when to call it quits
But you know I'll never quit you.
I walk alone on the streets when the stores are closed
So sad to see you go.

If you're ever drifting or feeling like you're lost,
Or if you're passing through,
Please come in, please come in and say hello
So sad to see you go.

CHORUS:

And maybe someday you'll come back around,
I didn't mean to disappoint you.
I never meant to let you down.
I never meant to hurt you.

When you see strangers do you ever think of me?
Because I think of you.
I do my best to forget, but I'm nowhere close,
So sad to see you go.

All the things that I just can't live without
The things that help me through
The part of you that tells the truth that I've come to know
So sad to see you go.

CHORUS:

And maybe someday you'll come back around,
I didn't mean to disappoint you.
I never meant to let you down.
I never meant to hurt you.

A suitcase sits on the floor by the door
A ticket in your hand
Don't you leave, don't you leave without saying so

So sad to see you go.

---

Lyrics submitted by Elena Worley.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>