We Are the Young

Dan Hartman

We're the ones with the runaway eyes
We're the ones who can improvise
Give us room and a hot situation
We believe in positive stimulationWe are the young, we are the young with the modern attitude
Breakin' down the walls, breakin' all the rules
We are the young, tomorrow comes and we might blow away
So we don't worry 'bout the price we pay
We are the young, we are the young, we are the youngEvery street is an arcade of dreams
Uptown, downtown, explodin' at the seam
With lights and sounds and the soul parade
White and blue collar promenadeWe are the young, we are the young with the modern attitude
Breakin' down the walls, breakin' all the rules
We are the young, tomorrow comes and we might blow away
So we don't worry 'bout the price we payWe are the young, we are the young with the modern attitude
Breakin' down the walls, breakin' all the rules
We are the young, tomorrow comes and we might blow away
So we don't worry 'bout the price we payAnother way to gain control
A brand new day to rock 'n rollWe are the young, we are the young, we are the youngAnother way to gain control
A brand new day to rock 'n rollWe are the young, we are the young with the modern attitude
Breakin' down the walls, breakin' all the rules
We are the young, tomorrow comes and we might blow away
So we don't worry 'bout the price we payWe are the young, we are the young with the modern attitude
Breakin' down the walls, breakin' all the rules, we are the young
We are the young, we are the young, we are the young
We are the young, we are the young, young, young, young
We are the young, young, young, we are the young

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/