

Bonfire

Third Eye Blind

Whoa, whoa A little early in spring for bonfire ring
She's shivering alone
I bumped into you somehow
(You could wear) A duct taped vest on goosed bumped chest
It's really all I own
Everything's changing now And I am high like a star that's flying
Cassiopeia
Everything's changing now She said it's alright
She said, she said
We will die alone
This is goodbye Lightning comes and lightning goes
And it's all the same to me
Let it in 'cause I want you so
I can hardly breathe and release Into one thousand pieces
I have broke into, over you
That shame will soon be gone
But I keep burning on and on and on If nothing else I am myself
It's all I have to give
Everything's changing now And we could live like kings
If we take a risk or we could live in doubt
Everything's changing now
C'mon, c'mon, c'mon Lightning comes and lightning goes
And it's all the same to me
Let it in 'cause I want you so
And I can hardly breathe and release Into one thousand pieces
I had broke into over you
Nightshade will soon be gone
But I keep burning on and on and on This, this is, this is the last time
This, this is, this is your goodbye
This, this is, this is the last time
This, this is, this is your goodbye
Whoa Well, some girls break you down
Just to see you come undone
Everything's changing now Maybe you and I are cursed
Maybe you and I are one
But that's the universe
Around, around, can't change it Lightning comes and lightning goes
And it's all the same to me
Let it in 'cause I want you so

And I can finally breathe and release
Into one thousand pieces
I had broke into over you
Nightshade will soon be gone
But I keep burning on and on and on
Did you get what you wanted?
Did you get what you wanted?
Did you get what you wanted?

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>