

Exiles

Dan Fogelberg

Exiles running from each other
We are exiles
Living undercover
Looking for another day to make it all work out
Exiles
Standing in the shadows
We are exiles
Weary of the battles
Looking for another day to make it all work out
You sit here
And I sit there
Looking at you used to be like looking in a mirror
But now it's dark
No light reflects
It never ends like one expects
I don't know where we went wrong
If I knew that I'd never had to write this song
But here we stand
So far apart
Separate pieces of a
Broken heart
(We live like)
Exiles running from each other
We are exiles
Living undercover
Looking for another day to make it all work out
Exiles
Standing in the shadows
We are exiles
Weary of the battles
Looking for another day to make it all work out
You said you need time to think
But I just couldn't go on living on the brink
So now we take this frozen stance
In hopes that we'll find one more chance
Different wants and different needs
Moving through our changes at such different speeds
I don't know why
And I don't know when
But somewhere we'll find love again
Exiles running from each other
We are exiles
Living undercover
Looking for another day to make it all work out
Exiles running from each other
We are exiles
Living undercover
Exiles

Standing in the shadows
We are exiles
Weary of the battles
