You Have Survived

Firewind

Times are tough, so you're heard
Has it ever been easy at all?
Money rules, it's so absurd
The lack thereof will speed your fallWork and slave to the bone
Where's the sense in living this way?
Greed and waste, they pour it on
You're not to question the game they playAre we debating if a crime should occur?
Here is the reasoning, should we ever the score
All is well at the end of the dayIf you're still alive, bang your drum
Play it hard, celebrate, you have survived
Bang your, bang your angry drum
Bang it hard, hardMore or less, mostly more
You're left waiting and nothing's there
Fair is fair in love and war
But you're alone and no one caresAre we debating if a crime should occur?
Here is the reasoning, should we ever the score
All is well at the end of the dayIf you're still alive, bang your drum
Play it hard, celebrate, you have survivedDo we dare? Are we scared?
To the charge of affairs
Roll the dice, pay the price
To cower is the real crime

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/