We Don't Talk About It

Brian Dunne

Well I went to the bank and to the store
We donâ€™t talk about it anymore
I dropped by my sisterâ€™s, she got new floors
We donâ€™t talk about it anymore
We donâ€™t talk about it anymore

Cuz your silence is your way of war
No politics, no football scores
We donâ€™t talk about it anymore
Well you were younger than you are today
When you made those choices that you made
When you swore that she was just your friend
Yeah, well we were both much younger then
I can still recall the way you smell
And the way you lied and the way it felt
Shower on at 3 a.m.
Well I donâ€™t want to think about that again
So I donâ€™t think about it now
But it haunts the walls inside this house
And its tangled in the sheets we lay
When I touch you and you turn away
We donâ€™t talk about it anymore

Cuz some things are better left ignored
Like the vows we made so long ago
And the way that I called you my home
Back when every word you said to me
Versed in madness, ecstasy
Forever in life the love we swore
We donâ€™t talk about it anymore
We donâ€™t talk about it anymore
