Goodbye Love

Liz Longley

I swear I felt you kissing her from miles and miles away
It hollowed out my chest, I felt your love escape
While your lips were pressed against her my head was on a pillow case cry "Goodbye Love, I'm gonna be okay"

Now my thoughts keep running wild... like a child running through a field
I wonder if you're crazy about her and how holding her must feel
Did you take her to your bed?
Did she sleep there on my side?
Oh goodbye love, I'm gonna be alright

Goodbye love, I'm gonna be okay
Goodbye love, I know it has to be this way
Goodbye love

There's a place our love remains
It is captured in time
It's still sitting by the river, your hands woven into mine
It is perfectly untouched

It knows no loss, no pain
Oh goodbye love, I'm gonna be okay

Goodbye love, I'm gonna be okay
Goodbye love, I know it has to be this way
Goodbye love

I'm gonna be okay
