

Just One Lifetime

J. Blackfoot

Just one lifetime,
Of loving you, honey,
Won't be long enough.
I'll love you 'til all the rivers run dry.
My loving turned to dust.

(female) If the beat of my heart should suddenly stop
My love will tick on just like a clock
Seasons may come and seasons may go
I'm with you come rain, shine, sleet, or snow
I'll love you 'til all of the rivers run dry
'til the sun and the moon fall from the sky. oooh

(female) Just one lifetime,
Of loving you, honey,
Won't be long enough. ooh don't you know that
I'll love you 'til
All the rivers run dry.
My loving turned to dust.

Truer than true, deeper than deep
My feelings for you will always be Solid as a rock my love will remain
Stronger than steel it'll never change
You are my breath every beat of my heart
My soul and my strength
Honey, that's what you are.

Just one lifetime,
Of loving you, honey,
Won't be long enough.
I'll love you 'til
All the rivers run dry.
My loving turned to dust.

Oh girl, all I'm trying to say is that my love has no limits and knows no bounds
And if you should look up one of these old days and find that there are fewer tomorrows than there are yesterdays,
I don't want you to worry
And when father time reaches around life's corner and run his old gray fingers through your hair, my love will be there

And oh girl, if the years take away your figure and leave you disfigured
Don't worry, my love will still be there

(female high) I'll love you 'til
all the rivers run dry

(male) 'til the sun and moon fall from the sky

(Both from here one out) Just one lifetime,
Of loving you, honey,
Won't be long enough. (it won't, it won't, it won't be long enough)
I'll love you 'til
All the rivers run dry.
My loving turned to dust (it turns to dust, it turns to dust)

Just one lifetime, (one lifetime)
Of loving you, honey,
Won't be long enough. (it won't, it won't be long enough)
I'll love you 'til
All the rivers run dry.
My loving turned to dust (it turns to dust).

(acapello) Just one lifetime,
Of loving you, honey,
Won't be long enough.
I'll love you 'til
All the rivers run dry.
My loving turned to dust

Just one lifetime,
Of loving you, honey,
Won't be long enough.
I'll love you 'til
All the rivers run dry.
My loving turned to dust.
