Creature

Fades Away

Wonder at the beautiful creature
Dancing in the flames unscathed
Liken yourself to the gods
Drink to your fill
Sleep well in the bed youve madeOne by one by one they fall, their bodies paint the landscape with their Delicate crimson strokes
Piece by piece by God forsaken piece they fall
Standing er so tall
This ship is sinking, and the captain is dead
Make haste for the deck, fare well dear friends
Find Jonah inside, then bring me his head
Sound all the alarms
Brace for the endGlorify yourselves at the alter
Praise the rebel soul called man
Tie down the priest to the stone
Bring forth his robe
Make way for the blasphemyDisconnect this catastrophic symbiotic lie they sold to Hack away the branches from the vine
Away with this hubristic narcissistic self indulgent deviation
Burn, burn, burn, burn
