One Way Or Another

Jesse Mccartney

Over here in California the sun maybe shining
Back in New York there is frost on the ground
I can feel it Christmas is coming
So, much snow is falling all around
In Chicago the wind is blowing
Honolulu waves is washing ashore
In Miami the temperature is climbing
But in Boston its starting to pour
Oh, don't you know that one way or another
I'll be coming home for Christmas day
Doesn't matter any kind of weather
You know that I'll always find a way
And we'll be celebrating all the good things we share
Everybody knows who will be there
I going to be there too yeah, I promise one way or another
I going to get back home to you
Down in Mississippi the weather is rising
In Minnesota the kids are staying inside
Ooh, chilly noses pressed up to the window
Getting ready for Christmas time
'Cuz whatever the change in weather
Santa he's still got places to go
He's tuning up all the jing, jing, jingling sleigh bells
And rehearsing jolly ho ho ho's
Oh, don't you know that one way or another
I'll be coming home for Christmas day
Doesn't matter any kind of weather

You know that I'll always find a way
And we'll be celebrating all the good things we share
Everybody knows who will be there
I going to be there too yeah, I promise one way or another
I going to get back home to you
I'm coming home for Christmas
Candy canes and mistletoes
I'm going to find a way
So I can get back
Oh, don't you know that one way or another
I'll be coming home for Christmas day

Doesn't matter any kind of weather
You know that I'll always find a way
And we'll be celebrating all the good things we share
Everybody knows who will be be there
I going to be there too yeah, I promise one way or another
I going to get back home to you
Oh, don't you know that one way or another
I'll be coming home for Christmas day
Doesn't matter any kind of weather
You know that I'll always find a way
And we'll be celebrating
All the good things we share
Everybody knows how we will be there
I going to be there too

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/