

Star Cannon

Jessie Baylin

I have walked this road
I have felt it in my bones before
Thought love was never ending
I'll take another chance
Felt I knew you at first glance
I'm yours as long as you will have me Now I understand the feelings
Of a lonely star that's been cracked apart
But in the end the pieces are what give it light
They take over the night, oh, oh oh
I've been in this room
And it's easy to assume
That you'll always be here beside me
Don't let my mind go astray
Lead me back to you
It's where I am belonging Now I understand the feelings
Of a lonely star that's been cracked apart
But in the end the pieces are what give it light
They take over the night, oh, oh oh
Now I understand the feelings
Of a lonely star that's been cracked apart
But in the end the pieces are what give it light
They take over the night, oh, oh ooh They take over the night, oh, oh ooh
They make it shine so bright
