Wait for an Answer

Blind Guardian

I cannot say that I don't care
'Cause I'm aware of everyone and everything
They're everywhereDon't be a fool, stop spinning around, spinning around
You're right, it ain't safe here
Start using your brain, your brainThe cautious hare cannot be seen as a coward
He's simply aware, he constantly knows what's going on
That the wheel of life turns on, it won't hold onSilent creature, filthy teacher's Spreading the disease, a release
A vanished kingdom falls
It goes on on and on and again it goes onRound and round
Oh, I can't get it out of my headWish I'd be a bird of prey
A pure and a blessed
A hawk who could ease the painDon't look back, tell me is it where you belong
A place in the dark, a song without hope
Don't look back, tell me is it where you belong
Oh, I wait for an answer, so farDon't look back, tell me is it where you belong
I will wait for an answer, so far
Don't look back, tell me is it where you belong
I will wait, yes, I will wait, don't look backWe're the last descendants in the line of valiant soldiers
We're mistreated angels, we are the blackbird nation
We're the chosen ones, we're the last descendants
We're a tribe of unsung glory, we are the fallen angelsWell, the time is right
You shall be on my sideI don't, I don't, I don't need anyone
Be with or be against me
I'm white, I am chosenThere is not the slightest, doubt it all
Not at all, in lower airs
We're ground down by their ignoranceHate will grow like a foul cancer
To find a foe seems to be the answerRound and round
Oh, I can't get it out of my headWish I'd be a bird of prey
A pure and a blessed
A hawk who could ease the painDon't look back, tell me is it where you belong
A place in the dark, a song without hope
Don't look back, tell me is it where you belong
Oh, I wait for an answer, so farDon't look back, tell me is it where you belong
I will wait for an answer, so far
Don't look back, tell me is it where you belong
I will wait, yes, I will wait, don't look backDon't be a fool, stop spinning around, spinning around
Don't move it ain't safe here
They've stained holy grounds, oh noThe hopeful he sadly admits

There's no hero no place to hide
There is no shelter from the storm
The maddened crow will spread terror
But I know bitterly they will stumble
Find themselves smashed on the groundDon't look back, tell me is it where you belong
A place in the dark, a song without hope
Don't look back, tell me is it where you belong
Oh, I wait for an answer, so farDon't look back, tell me is it where you belong
I will wait for an answer, so far
Don't look back, tell me is it where you belong
I will wait, yes, I will wait, don't look backIt's you who has said there's no tomorrow
I don't know but who I am, I wouldn't sit back any longer
It's surely built in sadness but the sadness surely will go by
So we will all know the answer, the answer's within
It's in your mind
