Nyce 2 Know Ya

K-os

Nyce 2 know ya [x3]
Live inside your head just like the day before tomorrow.
Been spending most our lives recalling things we already know.
I tried too hard to steal the sky and call it heaven bound.
At times I feel like I'm alone like a new kid in town
She said I need your love that's what she says
She said she had to break the mirrors that exist in her head
I often wonder if I could keep you compromisin' things
But then I feel the heat and wind beneath these angel wings
Nice to know ya
Can't believe it's almost over now and you just wanna let me go
Nice to know ya
And when I look up at your picture I see someone I ain't seen before
Nice to know ya
Cause every time you talk about it how come I'm always the last to know
Nice to know ya
You know you don't even deserve me 'cause you would rather close the door
Nice to know ya
I'd rather run than work this out
You light the sun cause you burned it out

Ain't no time to waste
Already had my taste I gotta find another way
You and I goin' forever out of place but girl I'm leaving you today
Ohh never change always be the same drivin' slow on purpose up in my fast lane
Then again how do you reason with the heathen - if perception is reality, perceive that I be leavin'
I know the reason you need somethin' to believe in,
God she's the type to kick a sleepin' dog
Raw when I eat the beat like a freak I'm over chic bleak I'm turnin' the other cheek
I don't wanna be the one to tell you it's over
I'm wise enough to see the sun I'm finally sober
I'm moving on you can't prove me wrong girl
There's nothing left to say cause I'm gooooone
Nice to know ya
Can't believe it's almost over now and you just wanna let me go
Nice to know ya
And when I look up at your picture I see someone I ain't seen before
Nice to know ya
Cause everytime we talk about it how come I'm always the last to know

Nice to know ya
You know you don't even deserve me 'cause you would rather close the door
Nice to know ya.
