Guess It's Me

PollyAnna

I wish I didn't forget to turn the TV off when I left
I wish said hi, the first time I met your mom, so I'd be nice
I didn't forget about the time you left me petrified
About myself, about my life, about the reasonWhy I could be here
Why I should be here
I guess it's me
I guess it's you or me
I guess it's me who is brain damaged here
Guess it's meI wish I, didn't regret the times that we made love instead of war
I wish you had your opinion there when I asked for yours
I didn't let you walk away and leave me unsatisfied
About myself, about my life, about the reasonI had my mind full
With thoughts so beautiful
The thoughts I can't recall
I let them all go for a mind hollow
It was peaceful
You had almost disappeared but now I know
