I Will Be

Lila McCann

Caught in the downpour of a rain of stones
Felt like an exile in the world I had known
So I sought the shelter of my own soul and stayed inside, yeahWords that were sharper than the winter wind
No longer had the power to pierce my skin
And they may not stop but I won't take them in
And I won't hideI will be here, I will be strong
I'll face my fears when the night is long
Still go onI will be brave, I will be bold
Follow my faith to a higher road
And I'm not there yet but I will beI could choose to keep my feet upon the narrow path
I never cross the open field for that one snake in the grass
But I'd rather risk my heart than never get the chance
To find my wayI will be here, I will be strong
I'll face my fears when the night is long
Still go onI will be brave, I will be bold
Follow my faith to a higher road
And I'm not there yet but I will beHey, I will be here, I will be strong
I'll face my fears when the night is long
Still go onI will be brave, I will be bold
Follow my faith to a higher road
And I'm not there yet but I will be, yeah
I will be, yeah ohI will be here, I will be strong
I'll face my fears when the night is long
Still go onI will be brave, I will be bold
