

Make-up Smears Eyes (Acoustic Version)

Automatic Loveletter

Left your t-shirt in my room, still smells of you And the picture you hung on the door lay smashed, picture perfect.

Explains now, clearly nothing left but a memory We only made out you never kissed me that's how I learned to hold back all feeling Wait, please don't go, I won't stay. All these words on replay. I'm ok, Its alright, good to know that your fine. Pretending everything is right, to make it better. I'll hide my make up smeared eyes, to show that I'm fine. Some how you have managed to get under my skin, more than anyone ever did. And if every whole makes a scar and every scar marks its place then I will never live freely without your trace.

And it'll never be fair, I wrote my songs for you and you never even cared.

So Ill forget you, Ill wash your t-shirt, kill the pillow and cut you out of pictures Wait, please don't go, I won't stay. All these words on replay. I'm ok, Its alright, good to know that your fine. Pretending everything is right, to make it better. I'll hide my make up smeared eyes...this drama sat shot gun my eyes rained like autumn only the glove box knows how the story goes now that this bandage is broken and the cuts left in open ill tell you just one thing this wasn't worth the sting
