

Take Off The Blues

The Foreign Exchange

(Mmm, hah, hah, hah)

You might, you might, you might, you might as well

(Mmm, hah, hah, hah, hah, hah)

After all is said and done you're next to me And when the sun goes down

You're feeling things you've never felt before

Nothing left to say to ease your fears

But I know just what to do

Let me take good care of you Kick off your shoes

Take off the blues and come to me

So much to do, so much is new for you to see

You might as well come a little closer

Girl, don't make me wait too long for you After all is said and done

(Said and done)

And there's nothing left to share

It's the morning after, I watch you laying there

(Just wanna watch you lying there) Always told that you should not give in to love

(L O V E)

But saying no is so hard to do

(So hard)

'Cause when the feeling's right

You might as well, yeah Kick off your shoes

Take off the blues and come to me

So much to do, so much is new for you to see

You might as well come a little closer

Girl, don't make me wait too long for you Just want your attention

Excuse my intentions

Keep your feelings intact

Don't wanna hurt nobody, let me say it again There's no need to mention

For this I've been wishing

There's no turning back, lady

Please take my hand Let's dance Kick off your shoes

Take off the blues and come to me

So much to do, so much is new for you to see

You might as well come a little closer

Girl, don't make me wait too long for you Kick off your shoes

Take off the blues and come to me

So much to do, so much is new for you to see

You might as well come a little closer

Girl, don't make me wait too long for you
