

Let Me Love You

Ronan Keating

Teenage nights, ticket stubs, cinema lines, catching the bus
Waiting underneath street lights
The sky was gold
The moon was low
We were higher
Summer good bye
Something about the two of us
Maybe it was only time
Until our stars aligned Let me love you
Now I know what love is for
I don't need to search no more
I've never ever felt so sure
Now I know what love is for Last thing I heard you're travelling now, seeing the world
Not touching the ground
Saw you in a photograph
I never said what I needed to say
I left it too late & you slipped away
Some bonfires don't burn out
There were flames through the roof
You walked in the room So, let me love you
Now I know what love is for
I don't need to search no more
I've never ever felt so sure
So, let me love you
Should've told you long before
Now I know what love is for! Oooh oh oh oh oh
Oooh oh oh oh oh
Oooh oh oh oh oh
Oooh oh oh oh oh So, let me love you
Now I know what love is for
I don't need to search no more
I've never ever felt so sure
Yeah, let me love you
I've never known a love before
I've never ever felt so sure
Should've told you long before,
Now I know what love, love is for. Oooh oh oh oh oh
Oooh oh oh oh oh Teenage nights, ticket stubs, cinema lines, catching the bus
Something 'bout the two of us.
