

I Can't Hear You

Grayson Capps

This world is making me dizzy
I can't seem to keep it from spinning, no
This life is screaming so loud now
And I can't escape from this crowd now It's like I'm climbing up on the shoulders
In a room full of strangers
And then everybody walks away Fly high, jump and touch the sky high
Bring me back to life
I know you're there when I can't hear you Down now at the speed of sound now
When I touch the ground now
You'll be there when I can't hear you
When I can't hear you I am a classic case of dysfunction
And I talk and talk and still I say nothing
So tell me, am I the voice of my generation?
Is everybody having the same conversation? We're all climbing up on the shoulders
In a room full of strangers
When we should be reaching for you Fly high, jump and touch the sky high
Bring me back to life
I know you're there when I can't hear you Down now at the speed of sound now
When I touch the ground now
You'll be there when I can't hear you
Yeah, and I can't hear you Do you ever get the feeling that you're not alone
No matter who you are, no matter where you go?
Do you ever get the feeling that you're not alone
No matter who you are, no matter where you go? Do you ever get the feeling that you're not alone
No matter who you are, no matter where you go?
Do you ever? Do you ever?
Do you ever? Feel like you're climbing up on the shoulders
In a room full of strangers
We're all reaching Fly high
Sky high
Life I
I can't hear you Down now at the speed of sound now
When I touch the ground now
Know you're there when I can't hear you Fly high, jump and touch the sky high
Bring me back to life
I know you're there when I can't hear you Down now at the speed of sound now
When I touch the ground now
You'll be there when I can't hear you
When I can't hear you, I can't hear you
