

Halo of Thorns

Psychotic Waltz

whispered alone
the song of an angel
echoes of a fallen tear frayed by the wind
a weed by a willow
withered and yellow
she lays her head to die
lays to die
reading the script
of the play that we lead christ I'd die again
o' if I could save you now you knew this had to come spare me the sacrilege
this play had brought upon us lay in my dying hour
it feels like I'm falling, falling
flying, tripping
this crown of kings
this bloody halo bleeds me dry hear me cry
as in the script
of the play that we lead
so I rise again
much stronger than before a child sacrifice
let me lay down this bloody cross we've dragged so far behind us and close this theatre now weeping over this crooked cross lying face down in the blood of saints just write me out of this play

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>