Pointless Drinking

Amy LaVere

Pointless drinking
Where does it end where to begin
Who are you friends, who are you foes
You'll never know as long as you goPointless drinking
Till it seems like they're all speaking poorly in Spanish
Who do you wish would totally vanish
And all you can doI'm not an actor but I act like I am
I really am awful but I act like I'm not Pretending my days hold the value of gold
But they only hold one thing and it's all that I've gotPointless drinking
Keeping my healthy dose of resentment
Keeping me waking with an empty repentance
Keeping me broke, broke as a jokePointless drinking
Took all the days that I should have felt young
Took all the joy from the songs I have sung
Took me awhile, took me awhileWell I'm not a hater, I love you all so
But I look at myself and I don't really know
Can I dig myself out of the wreck of my past
Will I ever unharden and stop showing my ass
Will those eternal bartenders ever stop filling this half-empty glassPointless drinking
Hate the effect, even more hate the cause
Hate to admit that I'm tragically flawed
I would keep going but let's pause for the causePointless drinking
Why do you do it, you always go through it
You drink to forget all the times you blew it
Think everyone knows, think everyone caresPointless drinking
Keeping you drunk on your dreams of great heights
From the bottom to the top back down overnight
You know it's not right, you know it's not rightPointless drinking
It's just the one thing you're overachieving
Feels like you never will stop believing
That you'll never win, you'll never win

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/