Black Light Burns

Black Light Burns
Cover Your Heart And The Anvil Pants Ody
Blood Red Head On Fire
Blood Red Head, Blood Red Head
Blood Red Head, Blood Red HeadNo one knows who sent it
Or what it first was called
No one knows what made it
Or when it first was mauledNo one understands why
It burns, but never dies
One thing is for sure though
That burning bastard fliesHere comes the burning
Blood red, head on fire
As laser beams shoot
From the eyes of the choirIt doesn't need a body
'Cause it flies through the air
It's a blood red head on fire
And it doesn't careIf you think you're badass
And you try to stand your ground
It will look into your eyes
And make its awful soundThen it will suddenly fly at you
And hit you in your head or chest
And your body will desintergrate
Because the Blood Red Head's the bestHere comes the burning
Blood red, head on fire
As laser beams shoot
From the eyes of the choirIt doesn't need a body
'Cause it flies through the air
It's a blood red head on fire
And it doesn't careRazor sharp fangs in a gross mouth
Yellow burning eyes, surprise
Gordy cauliflower ears
And talons growing out of its face
Eight feet off the ground
And moving fast and looking down
The people scatter as the foul death spreadsYou may think Duke Lion
Could defeat this awful foe
Well you may be right
Because they fought about a week agoThe Blood Red Head on fire
Was immune to Duke's fire balls

So Duke Lion gave up and went on
A quest for the Ice Sword of GaultryHere comes the burning
Blood red, head on fire
As laser beams shoot
From the eyes of the choirIt doesn't need a body
'Cause it flies through the air
It's a blood red head on fire
And it doesn't care
