

I Am Who I Am

Duberman

Feels like you've built a wall around me
You've tried your best to ground me, let me explain
    That I don't play by any other rules
I won't be nobody's fool, I won't lose this game
    There is no way
    I can love you with half of my heart
    There's no way
    It would tear me apart
    I am who I am, what else could I be
    And I'll stand where I stand, I chose to be me
    When you look in my eyes, you get what you see
    Understand if you can that I am who I am, who I am
    Think twice before you try to read me
    Before you try to lead me into your trap
    You've got no right to play with my emotion
'Cause you should know that I'm much deeper than that
    There is no way
    I can love you with half of my heart
    There's no way
    It would tear me apart
    I am who I am, what else could I be
    And I'll stand where I stand, I chose to be me
    When you look in my eyes, you get what you see
    Understand if you can that I am who I am, who I am
    Don't try, no way that you can love me
    Think twice before you try to read me
    No right, won't let your love escape me
    There is no way
    I can love you with half of my heart
    No way
    It would tear me apart
    I am who I am, what else could I be
    And I'll stand where I stand, I chose to be me
    When you look in my eyes, you get what you see
    Understand if you can that I am who I am, who I am
    I am who I am, what else could I do
    And I'll stand where I stand, I chose to be me
    When you look in my eyes, you get what you see
    Understand if you can that I am who I am, who I am

I am who I am, what else could I be
And I'll stand where I stand, I chose to be me
When you look in my eyes, you get what you see
Understand if you can that I am who I am
