

Are You OK?

Stars

Just wanted you to come home
To turn the key
To turn off time
For everything to shine
Are you kind Is it you?
No really, is it you who turns all the good to nothing good?
I refuse to Can you give me a clue?
To where you go
When your eyes don't glow
When I lose you to the mood(?) You don't want my kiss but you want my kids
Is that any way to live
Are you OK? What you running
What you running
What you running away from life?
What you running
What you running
What you running away to hide
Wish I could tell you there was nothing but time There's a story that you won't tell
It's a cruel dark hole it's the colour of coal
It hides in the belly of your life
It gets worse at night No starting an emotional war
I'll give you more
I'll be the soldier at your door I can tear
