Where's Home?

Richard Thompson

I wish this life of twists and turns would end and I could find my way back home again
But where's home?
But where's home?I've been so long away
I'll make it back somedayWhere's home?However many roads I walk along I never find a place where I belong Where's home? Where's home?
Well, I've got no place to be I'm like a refugee Where's home?I used to know this street someone changed the name
signpost turned around nothing looks the same
but I belong somewhere,
I belong somewhere.(instrumental)I used to know this street someone change the name
signpost turned around and nothing looks the same
but I belong somewhere,
I belong somewhere.I stare at endless walls, pace endless floors
I lie in endless beds, slam endless doors but where's home? Where's home?
Where's home?

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/