

I Felt Like Jesus

Chuck Prophet

On 16th Street in the heart of the heart of the city
In the back room of a bar called the Albion
I could make a Princeton sing like a house on fire for anyone And I smelled danger every time that you walked by
I felt like Jesus when you'd look me in the eye
You brought me trouble so I brought you some trouble too You tied a rag around your head, said Meat is murder
I thought about it for a while, I said Love is pain
You said I can give you anything you want boy
Now what's my name And I smelled danger every time that you walked by
I felt like Jesus when you'd look me in the eye
You brought me trouble so I brought you some trouble too I saw a dragon once coming out of the Broadway tunnel
I picked my camera up and I put my camera down
When the last beatnik on earth tapped me on the shoulder
I turned around And I smelled danger every time that you walked by
I felt like Jesus when you'd look me in the eye
You brought me trouble so I brought you some trouble too I said Lang-a-lang-a-lang-a-lang lang lang
