In Competition for the Worst Time

Idlewild

In competition for the worst first line I could use
Conversation for the first time
Find salvation and breathe in each breath that I choose
In competition for the worst timeBrooklyn lies bleeding in the afternoon
Always four or five steps from misfortune
To drown out moments of revelation
In competition for the worst timeI know my name but I can't deny
I talk in silence like I'm used toOhh, ohh, whoa, whoaGraduation fits the worst time I could use
Confidence for the first time
Take the money and the drink you are going to refuse
In competition for the worst timeGlasgow lies bleeding in the afternoon
A practical response to good fortune
I dream my moments of revelation
In competition for the worst timeThough I know my name I still can't deny
I talk in silence like I'm used toNo matter how hard I try
I talk in silence like I'm used to Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/