

Sad 'Ol Song

Gemma Hayes

It's a wave from a car, as it exits the driveway it's that silent awkward motion, the goodbye that you didnt say It's that sad song on the line, that cuts right through your ribcage and gets stuck inside as the wheels kick dust in your view, you know the longer you look,
the further she'll get from you Where's the light now you've only got the shade?
well she took all the colour now it's back to black and white days
That sad song stings your eyes singing " I wonder do I ever cross your mind?"
Such a sad ol song
such a sad ol song
such a sad ol song
