Cement

Citizen

Press your fingers on it, igniting what you are.
Meet me by the lake. I'm ripe with severed faith.
You wear wear the only scar.If I'm, if I'm a saint, then you're heaven. My only.
If I'm, if I'm a waste, then you're golden. My only.
If I'm, if I'm a shame, then you're bolder than all of me.
If I'm a saint, then you're heaven. My only.Cement for all of our teeth.
Cement for all of our teeth.
I'll give you myself, give you myself any day.Rest your body in it. Set fire to your thoughts.
Let your arms down. Throw your soul out.
There is no control.Cement for all of our teeth.
(Spread your figure across. Don't deny who you were)
Cement for all of our teeth.
(Wear the skin that I stole. Don't deny what you want)
I'll give you myself, give you myself any day.If I'm, if I'm flawed, then you're perfect. My only.
If I'm, if I'm a liar, then you're blameless. My only.
If I'm, if I'm hanging by a thread, then you're infinite.
If I'm a saint, then you're heaven. My only.Cement for all of our teeth.
(Spread your figure across. Don't deny who you were)
Cement for all of our teeth.
(Wear the skin that I stole. Don't deny what you want)
I'll give you myself, give you myself any day.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/