Tomorrow

Ximena Sarinana

I'm tired of following instict as a way to truth
They're telling me to stay away from you Every day's and open window
If I grow a little bolder But I'm not sure that love's a strong limb to survive when times get colder.
All of me is less of you and I still want you here tomorrow
And when the sun is out and I am whole we'll see if you're still around tomorrow

Torrid rommance has always been a thing for me I'm such an easy target to deceive.
I've trying to cheat my shadow to buy some time with you tonight But strength is key and I'm all out of.
I will have to leave you do it.
All of me is less of you
and I still want you here tomorrow
And When the sun is out and I am whole
we'll see if you're still around tomorrow
