

Joy

Iron & Wine

Deep inside the heart of this troubled man
There's innie binnie boy talking hard at your hand
Born bitter as a lemon, but you must understand
That you've been bringing me joy And now in lie, no, you don't want the truth
I'm only fighting cause you finally gave me something to lose
And it's as loud as a thunder cloud and you will, too
But you've been bringing me joy Deep inside the heart of this crazy mess
I'm only calm when I get lost within your well darkness
Born crooken as a creek now you've come to contest
That you've been bringing me joy When I'm love I'm living for you
When I've been blue but dying got me singing the blues
And it's a hard up silly song and bumbling tune
But now you're bringing me joy
