

Ungrateful

Escape The Fate

Trying to tear me apart Breaking me down to the bone So listen closely cause what you don't see is there's no blood inside this beating heart still beating, still breathing falling from grace you laugh in my face but you are the one who will leave with the beating, with bleeding hands i fight for a life that's beat me down stand up and scream while the rest of the world won't make a sound rising again from the fire a phoenix alive and inspired you can't erase me won't even phase me, no one hears a fucking word you say still beating still breathing, falling from grace you laugh in my face but you are the one who will leave with the beating with bleeding hands i fight for a life that's beat me down, stand up and scream while the rest of the world won't make a sound, with bleeding hands i fight with the pride left in me now, stand up and scream while the rest of the world won't make a sound, stand and scream stand and scream stand and scream with bleeding hands i fight for a life that's beat me down, stand up and scream while the rest of the world won't make a sound, with bleeding hands i fight with the pride left in me now, stand up and scream while the rest of the world won't make a sound with bleeding hands (stand and scream) with bleeding hands (stand and scream) we stand up and scream while the rest of the world won't make a sound (stand and scream)
