

Billy Cobham

Time won't stand by forever
 If I know it's true
 And I've learned not to say never
 Else I'll seem the fool At 29, you'd think I'd know better
 Living like a kid
 When my lies may seem less than clever
 Is when I fall for it Only time will tell if wishing wells
 Would bring us anything
 Or fade like scenes from childhood dreams
 Forgotten memories Some rides don't have much of a finish
 That's the ride I took
 Through good and bad and straight through indifference
 Without a second look There's no intentions worthy of mention
 If we never try
 So hang your hopes on rusted-out hinges
 Take 'em for a ride Only time will tell if wishing wells
 Would bring us anything
 Or fade like scenes from childhood dreams
 Forgotten memories Some rides don't have much of a finish
 That's the ride I took
 Through good and bad and straight through indifference
 Without a second look Only time will tell if wishing wells
 Would bring us anything
 Or fade like scenes from childhood dreams
 Forgotten memories Only time will tell, only time will tell
 Only time will tell if wishing wells
 Would bring us anything
 Only time will tell
