There
There must be
An easier way
To release these feelings
So
So far from home
I need your voice
To hold my head together
So
So far from home
I need your voice
To lift my lonely state of mind
You
You can't but wait
For me to return
For me to show you how I felt
These lungs have bled
And pages fly by
I need to feel you right my side
So
So far from home
I need your voice
To hold my head together
So
So far from home
I need your voice
To lift my lonely state of mind
Oh, there must be an easier way
Oh, there must be an easier way
Oh, there must be an easier way
To release these feelings
As a sea breeze hits my lungs
It takes me back
To where I belong
To where I belong
As a sea breeze hits my lungs
It takes me back
To where I belong
To where I belong

As a sea breeze hits my lungs
It takes me back
To where I belong
To where I belong
