Watery Hands

Superchunk

When you leave this coast
Take me with you
Because I can't live without you
She's too much like you
She's bigger than Pyramids
On water skies
And we both know that I've got bad knees
For tricks I won't do
So I'm swimming back to youSunken white
And fully intercoastal
But I still can't forget
Your farewell toast to our dead
On the beach
If I read these
You dropped anchor and dropped me
Now my flag flies blue
So I'm swimming back to youYou're made of water
I'm made of sand
Don't quit your teeth
Just let me kiss your
Watery handsStop, watch, and do it
