

Renegade

Running Wild

Living fast you take it day by day
One last chance to throw it all away
Mistrust is all you see in a world of hate
You know the reason why but way too late
In his heart he knows that he won't fall
But on the streets they're playing winner takes it all
One on one he's a renegade
Could tell his time was coming
Chasing the ace of life
One by one he will win again
Make no mistake this time
He's a renegade
Restless night, you wanna watch the dragon burn
Lives for knives, are you ever gonna learn?
You really wanna know if the needle ever lies
But you just don't believe it's the devil in disguise
In his heart he knows that he won't fall
But on the streets they're playing winner takes it all
One on one he's a renegade
Could tell his time was coming
Chasing the ace of life
One by one he will win again
Make no mistake this time
He's a renegade
Severe vein puncture sights
On the inner forearm with evidence of vein thrombosis
On both right and left sides
Rhinitis of the nasal passages
With evidence of extreme laceration
Of inner membrane and mucus ducts
Symptoms of withdrawal obvious together with complaints
Complaints of visual hallucinations and extreme paranoia
One on one he's a renegade
Could tell his time was coming
Chasing the ace of life
One by one he will win again
Make no mistake this time
He's a renegade, he's a renegade, renegade
